

I'd like to oppose lifting the ban on the use of cell phones during airline flights. In addition to being an annoyance, it seems that there may be a security issue given easier communication aboard an aircraft in flight. Thank you for your consideration.